

As in days of old when knights declared loyalty to the king, proclaim that you belong to the King of Kings with this

DECLARATION!

Severe emotional turmoil repeatedly tormented me during my healing journey, especially in the earlier days. This tended to be worse at night or when I was exhausted, and was clearly an attack from the enemy who did not want me to be healed.

I spoke the words of “Declaration” aloud at these times. Invariably I found relief from the turmoil and could sleep without tossing and turning, without nightmares, without feeling an evil presence in my room.

When the attacks were more severe, I lay prostrate before God to perform the declaration.

Whether the turmoil struck during the day or night, the words I spoke soothed and strengthened my soul. They also became a shield against spiritual attack.

The “Declaration” was formalized and is now being given to my prayer ministry clients. I offer it to you in the same spirit of healing.

I recommend you read it aloud at least once a day, for example before you go to bed. Read it with authority, knowing it is scriptural and honors God. If you are married, invite your spouse to join you in the declaration. This will unite you in the battle against the darkness. You, your spouse, and your Lord will become “the three-fold cord which is not easily broken” (Ecclesiastes 4:12).

Please feel free to share “Declaration” with anyone whom you feel would benefit.

Father God, Jesus Christ, Holy Spirit:

YOU are the one true God.

I will have no other gods before You.

YOU are the one true God

I will bow the knee before no other

I will worship no other

I will prostrate myself before no other.

YOU are the one true God

I will obey no other

I will follow no other.

YOU are the one true God

I belong to no other;

no matter what has happened in my past,

no matter who has sought to defile me in the presence of false gods, no matter who has taken my will and molded it to their desires.

YOU are the one true God

I have been sold for nothing, but I have been bought and redeemed without money (Isaiah 52:3)

My price is above rubies and fine jewels (Proverbs 31:10)

My price is the precious blood of the true Lord Jesus, who died and was resurrected,

who redeemed me when redemption seemed out of reach.

I am priceless.

YOU are the one true God

YOU are the only one I worship

the only one I love

the only one I serve.

I belong to You and to no other.

YOU are the one true God.
